DEDICATION

We, the graduating class of 1962, dedicate this yearbook to Miss Murdock in recognition of and deepest gratitude for her nineteen years of untiring service to us, our school, and our educational goals. Both the field of science and the Stonington Chapter of the National Honor Society have been the richer for her dedicated efforts.

CLASS HISTORY

The history of our class began as we entered Stonington High School in September of 1958. We tried to keep our scholastic goals in sight while still taking part in the other phases of school life.

Starting our freshman year we were proud to at last be in a real high school, but at the same time, we felt rather shy and timid. Early in September, we held our first class meeting under the direction of Miss Nancy Cooper, our class advisor. We would like to thank Miss Cooper, who was our "green year" advisor and who helped us at every opportunity. Our first order of business was the election of our freshmen leaders. The class officers that ably guided our class were: President, Jeanne Donath; Vice-president, Jared Wibberley; Secretary, Nancy Cassell; and Treasurer, Telli Tobiassen.

Representing us on the Student Council were: Laurie Anderson, Jo-Ann Sisk, Peter Dibble, and Walter Roderick.

The initial social extravaganza was our Freshman Party. Under the direction of Laurie Anderson, chairman, it was a successful and happy event.

We came back in the fall of 1959, more confident and very much more active. In our sophomore year, we found new friends and added many new accomplishments as we joined with students from Pawcatuck Junior High as the class of 1962. Our class officers were: President, Robert Dimock; Vice-president, Toby Baird; Secretary, Nancy Cassell; and Treasurer, Diane Grillo. Student Council representatives were: Laurie Anderson, Jo-Ann Sisk, Tellie Tobiassen, Steven Carter, Peter Dibble, and Jared Wibberley. Mr. Ostigny answered our urgent need for a class advisor.

Sharon Fogg, our Sophomore Hop chairman, worked hard to insure the success that the dance proved to be.

Our talent production was arranged by Aimée Green. The "Person to Person" theme was the popular choice, with Bob Dimock as Master of Ceremonies.

The chill in the air brought football back to mind and our sophomore boys showed to us the true football spirit.

Another group to whom credit is due is the sophomore part of that year's champion baseball team. They did a wonderful job — lots of coordination which brought many victories with the hustle and excitements of the finals. June — and another year was over.

The familiar ring of the bell marked the beginning of our junior year. Feeling much older at this time, many of us could be heard saying, "Were we ever as silly as those sophomores?"

Heading our class were: President, Robert Dimock; Vice-President, Douglas Lima; Secretary, Nancy Cassell; and Treasurer, Neil Canavan. Guiding us in accomplishing our goals were: Laurie Anderson, Marcia Culver, Ruth Mitchell, James Higginbothom, and Jared Wibberley as Student Council representatives. We are proud to say Peter Dibble was elected Vice-President of the Council. Mrs. Whelan and Mr. Ostigny jointly advised and helped us. We were surprised and saddened to learn that Mr. Crouch, Stonington High School's Superintendent of Schools, was retiring, but Dr. Curtin, who succeeded him, soon won our respect and confidence.

Our football squad did an exceptional job this year, ending the season with a 7—1—1 record.

Leading enthusiastic supporters were our cheerleaders Nancy Cassell, Marcia Culver, Lillian Fiddes, Linda Kain, Patricia Malone, Toni-Ann Simoncini, and captain Jo-Ann Sisk.

Doing a fine job on the basketball court were: Joe Woycik, Jim Higginbotham, Dud Wheeler, and Dave Erskine.

Baseball lettermen were: Dud Wheeler, Dave Erskine, Joe Woycik, Jim Higginbotham, and Howie Smith.

Our class play, "Where the Cross is Made," was well received by the entire student body. The students who participated in the play — Kathe DeCiantis, Peter Dibble, Stuart Kent, Douglas Lima, William Lopez, Carl Smith, and Earl Smith — should all be congratulated for their excellent acting abilities.

A "Slave Day," originated by the Junior Cabinet, was a very successful project. The main idea was to raise money for Thanksgiving Baskets and the United Fund. This was accomplished by students offering their services to people who needed them.

Our talents, our ability to organize, and our willingness to work as a class were displayed at our talent show. Florence Klewin was the program chairman.

Patricia Andre, Jeanne Donath, Paula Frechette, Madeline Guiliano, John Lord, Edward Moscaritolo, Richard Songdahl, and Thomas Wheeler were given scholastic recognition when initiated into the National Honor Society.

The time passed rapidly and before we realized it, our junior year had passed. The climax of this rewarding year was our gala Junior Prom. Jeanne Donath and James Higginbotham, co-chairmen, deserve much credit for the fine planning of the dance. Decorations under the able direction of Maryann Squadrito and John Lord centered around our theme 'Silver Sands.' The highlight of the evening was the crowning of our queen, Candace Bowker, and the presentation of her lovely court: Laurie Anderson, Nancy Cassell, Marcia Culver, Diane Grillo, Patricia Malone, and Ruth Mitchell.

With the summer fun and frolic behind us, we were now ready to enter the gateway leading to our great senior year. We were packed full of confidence and willingness to lead the school. No longer were we shy, unsure, and dependent; we had competently met our challenge. The school rose in a gesture of respect as the mighty seniors entered the auditorium at the first assembly.

We re-elected our capable junior class officers to lead the class during our final year at Stonington High School. Mrs. Whelan and Mr. Ostigny, our advisors, contributed greatly to the success of our class. Elected as Student Council representatives for 1961-62 were: Peter Dibble, President; Laurie Anderson, Secretary-Treasurer; Ruth Mitchell, Telli Tobiassen, Thomas Wheeler and Jared Wibberley. Two capable persons should be congratulated for their four years as representatives of our graduating class. They are Laurie Anderson and Peter Dibble.

Our football team with a capital 'T', led by Captain Robert Dimock, had a record of 4-3-2. Senior football players were: T. Behan, D. Birchell, W. Crowley, D. Erskine, J. Higginbotham, D. Lima, P. Mitchell, W. Roderick, P. West, D. Wheeler, and J. Woycik. Our basketball team under the capable leadership of David "Sam" Erskine, captain, and our other senior players — J. Higginbotham, J. Woycik, D. Wheeler, and H. Smith — earned a record to be proud of.

Two senior girls who received their letters in basketball were Bonnie Barton and Ruth Mitchell.

The baseball team, under William Crowley, and the track team, under Edward Moscaritolo, ended their final year at S.H.S. with very impressive records.

Patricia Andre and Alberta Pignataro shared the sport spotlight as they took their places on the cheerleading squad.

Much credit must be given Laurie Anderson, editor of the Brown and White, and Diane Grillo, editor of the Pawmystonian, for their literary achievements.

Our second semester was full of activity. A memorable occasion was our enchanting Senior Prom, capably arranged by our co-chairmen Laurie Anderson and Ruth Mitchell.

The Washington trip, which has become a tradition, will always be remembered by those students who participated.

We looked forward to graduation and yet with sadness, for with fond memories we must leave these halls to take our places in society. We wish to thank the faculty and our principal for their co-operation throughout our high school career, and we wish the incoming senior class success.

I, Bonnie York, do leave my "live and be merry" nature to Margaret Rogers.

PROPHECY

As the world's largest ocean liner the "Rodreicas" pulls into port in Stonington, Connecticut, one of the largest harbors in the world, I feel proud to know that it was the Stonington High School Class of 1962 that made my journey possible. Crossing the Atlantic with Howard Smith, my former classmate, as captain; Todd Johnstone, first mate; and Ronald Hewitt, Richard Stedman, and Lawrence Vars as members of his most competent crew, made my journey most enjoyable. While aboard ship, I met Donna Collins, a hostess, and Joan Hicks, head of the entertainment committee. The entertainment included Judy Lis on accordian, Maureen Cook and Maryann Faillice, both professional roller-skaters, and Lynn Texeira performing on the trampoline.

After my luggage was checked through John Palazzola, the customs official, I hailed a taxi and was surprised to see Bob Lenihan as cab driver. Bob took me to the Seaport Ford Co., owned by none other than Doug Lima, where I purchased his newest model — the "Bailey-100", designed by Ed Bailey. After waiting for fifteen minutes while the mechanics Paul Mitchell, Dwayne Allen, Harold Ball, Arthur Bellerose, and Richard Goulet made the necessary adjustments, and the secretaries Alberta Pignataro, Veronica Turner, and Mary Lou Prescott drew up the final papers, I started on my way. This sports model has power, and as I was doing one-hundred-eighty miles per hour between Stonington and Westerly on the new supersonic highway designed by Fred Friedel and built by Frank Lord's construction company, I heard the familiar siren of a police car approaching from the rear. As I pulled to the side of the road and was about to explain to the officer why I was speeding, I came face-to-face with Captain Wally Roderick. Wally was very considerate about this incident and only gave me a warning.

Continuing on my way, I came upon the Stonington Golf Course where an enormous crowd was gathered. Being just as curious as the next person, I stopped to see what the excitement was all about. As I pushed my way through the crowd, I bumped into Dud Wheeler, who told me he was supporting his family of seventeen children as a jet test pilot. After I reached the front of the crowd, I noticed an official's stand where Jim Lussier, Mayor of Stonington, Neil Canavan, treasurer, and Jim Higginbotham, Joe Adriano, and Walter Volinsky of their political party were seated. As I headed toward the spectators' stand, I saw Barbara McKenna and her staff of news reporters— Brenda Neal, Diane Kaanta, and Mary O'Keefe with the photographers Bob Hays and Bill Howard who were seated in the press box. I then met Dave Birchell, new owner of the golf course, who told me that the World's Champion Golfers, the Hopkins Twins, were playing Carol Godomsky and Telli Tobiassen, two worthy opponents.

Traveling along the local pike toward Mystic, I stopped at a very enticing restaurant, the Bayview Manor, and was greeted by Toni Ann Simoncini, the new owner of the restaurant. During the course of the meal, Dr. Peter Nyman, a now world famous veterinarian, came in with Carl Smith, Connecticut Agricultural expert, to meet Dr. William Crowley, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture in Washington.

Above the central fireplace hung a masterpiece of art painted by the great artist Maryann Squadrito. After a most satisfying meal, I started on my way along the Stonington-Westerly Highway which was still under construction. Parked on the side of the road, I noticed several Grills Construction Machines, designed by Wayne Grills, all with the names Behan, Geyer, and Erskine on the cab doors. I slammed on my brakes to see if this was the Tom Behan I knew in high school and found out that he, along with David Erskine, was now in the construction business. Tom told me that Dennis Donovan, George Howard, William Texeira, Bill Reid, and Charlie Podzaline were expected to come back from the service next week and begin work for his construction company.

Once more on my way, I noticed on my right a huge glass and brick building. I was so attracted by its exterior I decided to stop to see what this building was. I noticed on the front that it was named the Scientific Institute of America. I entered the magnificent structure and was greeted by none other than Jane Cammeyer, who told me that she was personnel manager. Jane brought me into the main office, where I saw Clem Sylvia, Terry Mathewson, Mary Sylvia, and Patty Ayotte all busily working as secretaries. I then met Candy Bowker, head of public relations, who proceded to show me through the building. We entered the laboratory where I saw Jeanne Donath, Wayne Williams, and Stuart Kent all working busily to find a new method by which to cure mice of cigarette smoking.

Next, I saw Albert Kellers, Kenny Swain, and Raymond Beaulieu all busily working on the planning of a new industrial plant in the drafting room.

Walking down the corridor, I noticed a room marked—Engineers Only. Being the nosy person that I am, I looked in only to see Richard Songdahl, Linda Bailey, Tony Vacca, and Ed Burrell working diligently on a new method to orbit chickens around Jupiter.

Also employed in the Scientific Institute were Jared Wibberley, in the oceanography department; Ed Moscaritolo, an astronomer; Earl Smith and Bob Whipple, chemists; and Linda Smith, I.B.M. operator.

As I was leaving the building, I met Dr. Tom Wheeler, world famous mathematical physicist, and Dr. John Lord, head of Engineering at the United States Submarine Base, who were coming back from a conference.

I jumped into my "Bailey-100" and started on my way to Pawcatuck. I switched my radio on to the world famous Pawmystonian station and heard a familiar voice. Sure enough, the news commentator was Joe Woycik. After he commended Judy Card, Marie O'Keefe, and Kitty Harkness for their work as social workers, he then began to describe the newest fashions in clothing designed by Barbara Friedel and modelled by Barbara Henry, Cynthia Bickford, Judy Arzamarski and Nancy Cassell. This was followed by a broadcast of music composed by Veronica Medeiros. I got carried away with this program and moved a little faster than was safe. I spun off the road, dented the fender, and knocked the rear license plate loose on my little sports model. Fortunately, Pete West, another Connecticut State police officer, came along and told me to report the accident to my insurance company. I didn't know who to call, so he suggested the Dibble, Lopez Law Agency. I talked to Pete Dibble on the phone, and he said to come right over. On my way I stopped at a hardware store to get some screws to secure the license plate on my car. I was greeted by the owner of the store, Jon Babcock. He told me that Frank Hatmaker was working for him as door-to-door salesman. After selecting some merchandise, I paid my money to the cashier, Josephine Lis. Again on my way, I soon arrived at the law firm. I was greeted by Alice Rathbun and Patty Knowles, legal secretaries, who told me that Beverly Woycik, Jerilyn Samataro, and Linda Tourville were also working in the agency as secretaries. Betty Sue Keegan and Alice Brown were typists, while Sandra Brown, Barbara Woycik, and Dionira Saporita were bookkeepers. Patty then showed me to Peter's office. Pete and Bill were in conference with Danny Evans, Tommy Grispino, and Billy Devine who wanted their new car rental business insured, but he told me to come in any way. I was not injured by my small accident, but they both suggested that I go to the hospital just for a routine check-up. I did so, and to my pleasant surprise I was greeted by the receptionist Dawn Smith, who told me several of my classmates were currently working in the hospital. Judy Barrett, Martha Coogan, Margaret Platt, and Ruth Weaver were nurses in the pediatrics ward; and Aimée Green, Madeline Guiliano, Ruth Mitchell, and Betsy Perry were presently working in surgery. I was assigned to see Dr. Lewis only to find out that it was my old friend Sue. She told me that Pat Andre and Laurie Anderson were working in the hospital as physical therapists; and that Steve Carter has just opened a funeral home—he always was so optimistic!

I had several X-rays taken by Camille Kowalczyk and Ruthann Scarano, X-ray technicans.

After leaving the hospital, I met Pat Malone who told me that she, along with Kathy Flynn, Florence Ponte, and Bonnie York were now all registered beauticians and had just opened a national beauty salon.

While driving along West Broad Street, I saw the United Nations Building which was designed by the universally famous architect, Diane Grillo. I met Malcolm Bonardi, head of the International Court of Justice at the new site, and he showed me through the U.N. Sitting at the head of the Security Council was Secretary Carol Brigance, a very famous peace-maker.

Next, I drove up to Stonington High School where I was greeted by Principal Bob Dimock, who told me that several of my classmates were now working at school. I saw Donna Janes, Bonnie Barton, and Margaret Fiddes working in the office. Next, I saw Paula Frechette teaching Latin, while Sharon Fogg was instructing a class in Modern Dance in the gym with Jo Ann Sisk as physical education teacher. Esther Fagre was demonstrating in the Home Economics room, and Marcia Culver and Kenny Steele were teaching typing and stenography. I then met Kathé DeCiantis, new head of guidance, and Suzanne Morey, who is head of the English Department. Next, I peeked into the clinic, only to see Linda Kain as school nurse.

Well, once more I must be on my way. Best of Luck, Class of 1962.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is composed of thirty-six representatives who are elected to the organization by their classes. Under the guidance of the advisor, Mr. McKenna, the council's purposes are to act as a liaison between students and faculty, to develop a sense of responsibility in the student body, and to promote the general welfare of the school.

TRAFFIC SQUAD

The Traffic Squad, composed of Student Council Representatives from the senior and junior classes (blocks one through five) and eighth and ninth grade representatives (blocks six and seven) has the object of alleviating the congestion in the halls.

Mr. McKenna

Miss Murdock

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The Stonington High School Honor Society is a chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools. Election to membership is based on a high standard of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. A few high ranking students may be elected in their junior year. Others may become eligible to membership in their senior year. Members are elected in February and initiated in March.

BROWN AND WHITE

The Brown and White, the school newspaper, is published six times yearly. The staff of about fifty draws its membership from all senior high classes. The paper reports scholastic, athletic, social, and extra-curricular activities. It also contains feature articles and personal items about the students.

Mrs. Cronin

Mr. Morgan

MATH CLUB

The Math Club, under the direction of Mr. Morgan, is open to any interested and qualified sophomore, junior, or senior. Meeting during activity periods and one night a week after school, this club has for its purpose to demonstrate that mathematics is one of the most active forces in the development of our civilization and that math can be fun.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club, under the supervision of Miss Murdock, provides instructions for students who are interested in gaining knowledge of the art of photography. Members of the club are given experience by taking pictures for the Brown and White and covering various school activities. Members learn the proper techniques of photography.

Miss Murdock

Mrs. Cullinane

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America is open to any student interested in becoming a teacher. The primary aim of the F.T.A. is to promote interest in the teaching profession. This organization helps to give important information about teaching through field trips, speakers, and discussions. Pres.—Elizabeth Crouse; Vice Pres.—Barbara Ireland; Sec.—JoAnn Kowalski; Treas.—Carol Fain; Lib.—Jean Paul. Mrs. Josephine Cullinane is advisor to this club.

Mrs. Morrison

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

The Future Nurses Club is a member of the Future Nurses of America, a national organization. The object of the Future Nurses Club is to promote interest and to procure information in the field of nursing and other related fields. An annual field trip to various hospitals and institutions helps to fulfill the objectives of the club.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The Junior Red Cross Club, originated this year, is under the guidance of Mr. Garber. It is open to any student interested, and has as its main purpose the idea if giving help to those who are less fortunate than ourselves. Speakers such as Mr. Fank and Mrs. Denison are invited to the meetings. The members enrolled more than half the student body through contacts in their homerooms. A Christmas gift drive for patients at Norwich State Hospital was the chief project this first year.

Mr. Douville

"S" CLUB

The "S" Club, under the direction of Mr. Douville, aims to promote higher respect and sportsmanship among the athletic teams at S.H.S. It holds one fund raising game and one dance a year which support the annual banquet where awards are presented to its members. Membership in the "S" Club is open to all boys and girls who have earned their letter in any varsity sport and to the senior cheerleaders.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club is open to all students who are interested in obtaining a better background in science. Each year the members prepare projects for the local Science Fair at which time the better projects are selected and sent to the State Science Fair in Hartford.

Mr. Carlin

Mrs. Larkin

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, under the direction of Mrs. Larkin, is open to any interested student. It works to acquaint its members with French culture and French customs.

LITERARY CLUB

Under the supervision of Mrs. Jeffreys, the Literary Club organizes and edits items for the literary magazine. The club also proofreads, types, and edits themes that will appear in magazines to be sold to students.

Mrs. Jeffreys

Miss Silverstein

THE LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club is open to all students who have taken or who are now taking Latin. The Latin Club holds an annual initiation in the fall, and other programs to help the students understand and appreciate Roman culture.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club was started to further develop any interest that students may have in amateur radio. The club meets in room 9 during the activities period on Thursday and on Tuesday of every week. During the meetings time is spent learning the International Morse Code, general station procedure, and understanding radio theory.

Mr. Schonland

Mr. Ostigny

AGRICULTURAL CLUB

The Agricultural Club, under the direction of Mr. Ostigny, was established this year. It is working on projects to be entered in the State Science Fair. The projects deal mainly with livestock such as cattle, horses, and chickens.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The purpose of the Industrial Arts Club is to give its members a better understanding of employment opportunities in our technical society. Field trips, discussions, and guest speakers are some of the activities of the club.

Mr. Walsh

Mr. Schonland

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club, under the direction of Mr. Barrett and Mr. Robinson, was organized to teach members the skill of that ancient game, chess, and also to arouse interest and promote proficiency in it.

DRAMATICS CLUB

Formally reorganized this year, the Dramatics Club is designed to promote interest in and heighten appreciation of drama. This aim is accomplished by the reading and producing of plays and by the attending of professional productions. Since interest in the club is high, membership is generally limited to juniors and seniors, although participation in school plays is open to any member of the senior high school.

Mrs. Whelan

Miss Watrous

KNITTING CLUB

The Knitting Club, under the supervision of Miss Watrous, meets in conference room "D" each activity block on Thursdays. This club was formed for the benefit of those who want to make various knitted articles. Meetings are held after school on Wednesdays to provide help for those who are more deeply interested.

ART CLUB

Under the direction of Mr. Cooper, the Art Club does many things to promote interest in the field of art. The club's goal is to develop a truer knowledge and appreciation of the many phases of art work.

Mr. Cooper

Mr. Silva

PARLIAMENTARIAN & FINANCE CLUB

Officers: Pres.—Diane Brustolon; Vice Pres.—Nonie Burdick; Treas.—Carol Higginbotham; Sec.—Maria Holland. The purpose of parliamentary law is to assist an assembly in carrying out its purpose. It is the code of ethics of working together. Parliamentary law is concerned with the means by which beliefs and ideas are discussed in a group action. It provides ways of determining the will of the majority.

TYPING CLUB

This year, a new activity has been added to the extra-curriculum list. More than twenty of our non-business juniors and seniors have joined a typing club that meets every other week. These students are so interested that, by the end of the year, they will have at their fingertips the rudiments of touch typewriting.

Mrs. Gurney

THE WASHINGTON CLUB

The Washington Club, under the direction of Mr. Foley, is composed of members of the senior class who want to visit our nation's capital. During the spring vacation, the trip is made, covering six days. The objectives of the club are: education, recreation, and liveability.

Mr. Foley

Visits are made to the White House, U.S. Capitol to observe Congress in session, Smithsonian Institute, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, F.B.I., Arlington National Cemetery, Mount Vernon, Naval Academy, Pan American Union, Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, National Episcopal Cathedral, Franciscan Monastery, and many other places of interest.

Many moments of fun are spent at Glen Echo Amusement Park and on a moonlight sail down the Potomac River. A jam session in the hotel rumpus room also adds to the entertainment.

The third objective means much to all who attend. They learn hotel decorum and dining room manners; punctuality becomes a habit, and they make many new friends from all parts of the United States. This glimpse of a typical Washington trip reveals why many seniors look forward to it as a highlight of their four years at Stonington.

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating Club affords an opportunity for the developing of convincing and effective argumentation. It gives a chance to those students who are interested to perfect their ability in communicating effectively.

STONINGTON HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS

H. S. LAWTON

The Stonington High School Music Department includes Chorus, Band, and the Keynotes. The Chorus is by far the largest group. During the 1961-62 season, the customary schedule of major concerts at Christmas and in the spring was followed.

Under the direction of Mr. Harry Lawton, the Christmas performance was built around a play "The Perfect Gift." The spring presentation, prepared with the co-operation of Miss Florence Thavenet, director of dancing, featured music from many countries including, for the first time, songs in French and Italian.

In addition to school functions, some choristers were active in both State and New England festivals. Six choristers took part in the New England convocation at Kingston, Massachusetts, in April. Stonington was also represented by Jeanne Donath who played French Horn in the orchestra.

In all respects, the chorus enjoyed one of its most successful years since the new school was opened.

STONINGTON HIGH SCHOOL BAND

The Stonington High School Band, always much in demand, took part in many school and civic functions during the year. Under the direction of Mr. Matthew Grzyb, the band had an important part in the Christmas concert with the chorus.

For the first time the annual spring concert was presented jointly with the Waterford High School Band. The program was given in Waterford and Stonington on successive weekends in May.

The Band was well represented at the All Connecticut Festival in October and also was prominent at the University of Connecticut Band Day. Our brown and white uniforms have won recognition throughout the state.

KEYNOTE OFFICERS

The 1961-62 Keynotes enjoyed the busiest year since the formation of the organization seven years ago. In addition to singing in both Christmas and Spring Concerts, this attractive vocal ensemble presented programs for the R. I. State Convention of the DAR, the Westerly Historical Society, the Westerly Credit Union, and with the Westerly Singers, a concert for the National Muscular Dystrophy Fund. The Senior officers of the Keynotes are Telli Tobiassen, President; Linda Smith, Vice President; Marcia Culver, Secretary; Linda Bailey, Treasurer.

Membership in the Keynotes is limited to fifteen. At the beginning of this past year 53 girls applied for membership.

FOOTBALL - 1961

After a fine 1960 season of 7-11, the Bears started the 1961 campaign with only four returning lettermen. However, led by Captain Bob Dimock and with help from seniors playing their first year, the Bears played strong football, compiling a 4-3-2 record highlighted by the capturing of the Eastern Connecticut Conference Championship.

The Bears opened the season by tying a strong Warren team 12-12. Woodrow Wilson took the second game 42-0. The Bear gridders then went on to defeat Killingly 40-14, St. Bernard's 18-8, tie Waterford 14-14, and drop Putnam 14-6. Final losses to Plainville 32-6 and Westerly 19-0 preceeded the Bears' finest performance, a 16-6 romp over Westerly on Thanksgiving Day.

With the return next season of 55 squad members including seven lettermen headed by captain-elect Bill Zembruski, Head Coach Woodrow Douville and assistant coaches Donald Ostigny, Peter Young, and John Walsh anticipate another successful season.

VARSITY BASKETBALL 1961-62

The 1961-62 Bears played a 10-10 season with the strongest games played against Waterford and Fitch. Led by Captain Dave Erskine and returning letterman James Higginbotham, Norman Holland, Joe Woycik, Dud Wheeler, John Rezendes, and Bill Zembruski, the Bears missed the state playoff by only a small margin. Next year's team, with captain-elect Norman Holland, and lettermen Bill Zembruski and John Rezendes, should have a successful season.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Led by Captain Harvey DeMovick, the Bear Junior Varsity team compiled a 9-9 season. Coach Silva believed that much experience was gained by the underclassmen in Junior Varsity competition. This should be beneficial to next year's varsity team.

TRACK - 1962

The 1962 Bear cinder squad is hopeful of posting another successful season. Through graduation the Bears have lost some strength in both the field and track events, but regained this strength with the increased size of this year's squad. Returning senior lettermen from last year are — Captain, Edward Moscaritolo, Robert Dimock, John Lord, and Dudley Wheeler. The Bears can expect to be strong with Lord in the dashes, Dimock in the pole vault and discus, Moscaritolo in the broadjump and 440, Wheeler in the javelin, and sophomore letterman John Rezendes in the mile and half mile.

With the addition of newcomers, enough depth should be obtained to bring the Eastern Connecticut Conference Championship to the Bears this season.

BASEBALL - 1962

The 1962 team should have a chance at the State playoffs. Returning lettermen are Joe Woycik, Dave Erskine, James Higginbotham, Donald Saffomilla, last year's leading hitter, Bill Crowley, Howard Smith and Dudley Wheeler. With support from underclassmen, the team should have a successful season.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

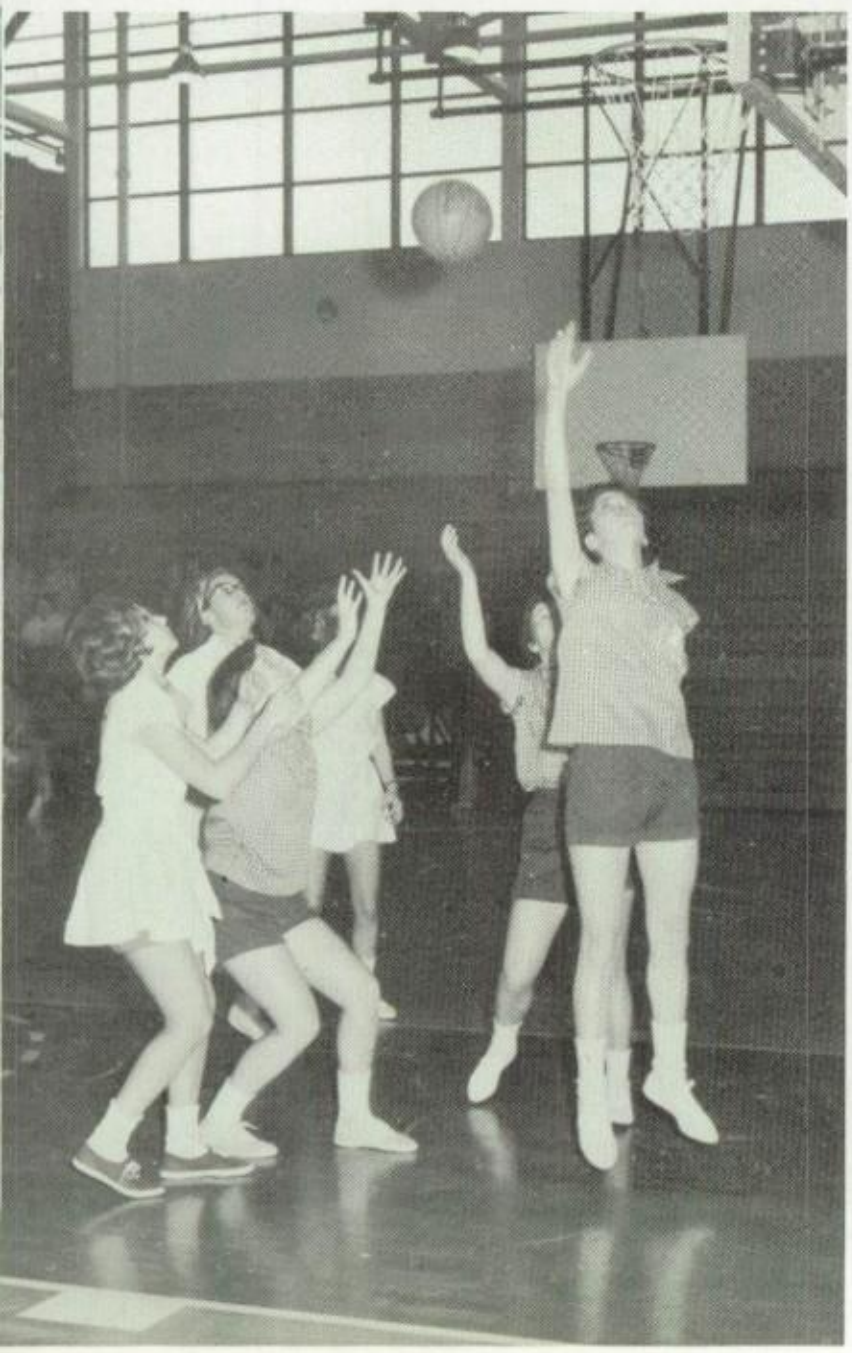
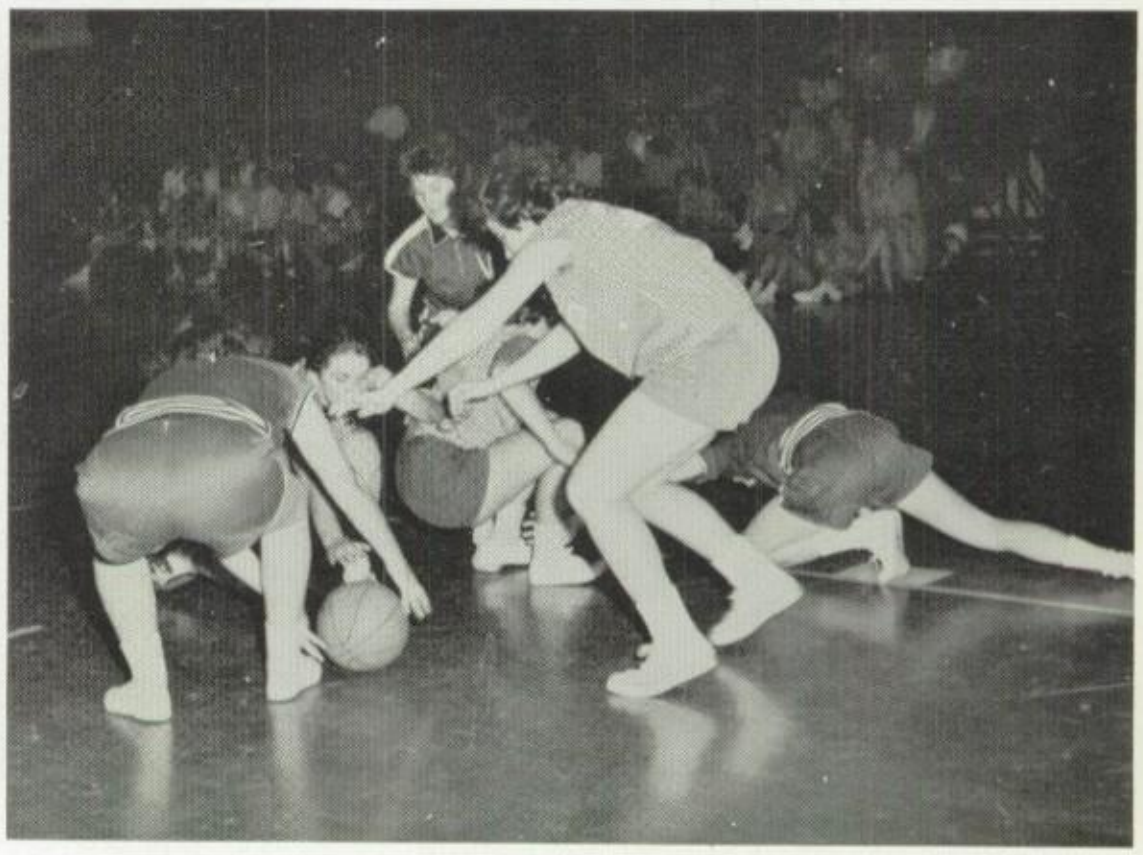
Twenty-two girls of the senior, junior and sophomore classes comprised this year's basketball team.

Returning as varsity players are Bonnie Barton, Martha Coogan, Elaine Marcey, Peggy Scira, Marcia Culver, Sharon Fogg, Maryann Squadrito, Mary Siegel, Patricia Andre, Diane Grillo, Ruth Mitchell, Bert Pignataro, Laury McGee, Clem Sylvia, and Mary Ellen Brannegan.

Miss Florence Thavenet coaches the team with the assistance of managers Linda Bailey, Cynthia Vacca, and Claudia McGowan.





SENIOR CHEERLEADERS

Linda Kain, Patricia Andre, Margaret Fiddes, JoAnn Sisk, Patricia Malone, Alberta Pignataro, Marcia Culver

CHEERLEADERS

Every spring, after a rigorous training schedule, seven girls from the sophomore class are chosen to represent the school for two years as cheerleaders. These girls are judged on their personality, leadership, dependability, voice, and co-ordination in all cheering motions: cartwheel, front over, dive to forward roll, and form in final jump.

The group, under the direction of Captain JoAnn Sisk, Mrs. Jeffreys, Mrs. Schweikert, and Miss Watrous cheers at sports events and keeps up the enthusiastic spirit of Stonington High School. The cheerleaders also take part in parades and attend cheerleading clinics.

JUNIOR CHEERLEADERS

TUMBLING CLUB

The purpose of the Tumbling Club is to give sophomore, junior, and senior girls some experience in gymnastic tumbling. Each fall a group of girls is chosen for their outstanding ability in tumbling. In late November each girl shows her skill by competing in the Tumbling Competition at the University of Bridgeport.

BADMINTON

This year seven girls from Stonington High participated in the annual playday games against Norwich Free Academy, Fitch, Waterford, New London, and St. Bernard's. The girls who participated in the singles and double badminton games were Catherine Previty, Sharon Fogg, Laury McGee, and Juliet Dodge, in double badminton; in the singles were —JoAnn Sisk, Patricia Andre, and Elizabeth Perry.

OFFICIAL YEARBOOK PHOTOGRAPHER

Marie,
Best of Luck to a real sweet kid whom I have really had fun knowing.
Never forget those cold winter days when we froze just to have a cigarette!
Good times we shared Enel the times we have classes. May we have more fun in the years to come & may we always be friends.
God Bless You"

VARIED SKILLS

make people "different". Mr. Banker, Mr. Baker, Mr. Grocer, Miss Chemist — each is "different" from the other because the specific training has differed.

We of the investment casting industry are different, too. We may bowl together with you, attend the same church, fish the same stream, watch the same television channels, even live next door to Mr. Banker or Mr. Baker.

But at work we're in our own special niche. Specific education and inclination has put us here. We elected the pursuit. And we're glad nobody made the choice for us.

Your own choice of vocation is yours to make, be it as editor, plumber, pharmacist or coach. Whatever it is, may it turn out to be the "best" one. We hope you'll enjoy it thoroughly, year after year after year.

PATRICK HENRY

The insignia — to the submarine and crew it lends distinction, a certain individuality. Collectively the crests represent to the American people a new frontier of defense, our undersea nuclear Navy.

Nine of our commissioned nuclear submarines, from the pioneer Nautilus to the Polaris-firing Patrick Henry, have been designed and built by General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division. Today they sail in defense of freedom.

The men and women of Electric Boat, the nation's most experienced submarine builder, are justly proud of their contributions to world peace.
